VOLUME LXV., NUMBER 16. REDWOOD CITY, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1925. ESTABLISHED 1859

DEVELOPMENT OF HARBOR NEED OF REDWOOD CITY

Government Help Will Probably Be Available

That the greatest need of this district is adequate harbor facilities was the unanimous decision of a meeting of the board of trustees of Redwood City, members of the chamber of commerce, representatives of the Pacific Portland Cement Co., members of the San Mateo county chamber of commerce and other development organizations held Wednesday evening at the city hall.

It is generally conceded that the development of the harbor here would be of great benefit to this district, but whether or not the present time is right for such development has been to some extent a matter of debate. It was the unanimous opinion Wednesday evening, however, that the present is the auspicious time for such development.

The chief address of the evening was made by F. T. Letchfield of the San Francisco chamber of commerce. Redwood City has now an opportunity to become a great port, according to Letchfield, who pointed out that the greater part of the export produce from California comes from the interior over the Dumbarton bridge and into San Francisco, where it is loaded on ships. If the harbor here were developed as it should be, Letchfield stated, a great portion of this produce would be put on board ship right here. This would create a great industry here, and would at the same time help to relieve the congestion at the terminals in San Francisco.

The building of a better harbor here is of great interest to the Pacific Portland Cement Co., according to E. E. Keller of that company, who addressed a lengthy letter to the chamber of commerce here, urging that the project be considered seriously. The cement company is ready, Keller stated, to make available for this purpose all of the data which they secured when locating their plant here, and they will also be glad to bear a part of the expense. A letter was received from the Balch Steamship Co. stating that that company were anxious to see this harbor developed, and that in the event of such development that they would take advantage of the excellent harbor here.

The government, it was pointed out, is interested in developing this section of the harbor and should be apprised with figures as soon as possible relative to the cost and value of such development. It was decided that a delegation go to the army engineers in San Francisco on Tuesday and put the matter before them.

Man Drowns Swimming in Lake

An inquest held Monday afternoon at the parlors of Layng and Tinney disclosed the fact that Charles P. Randal, an employee of the Base hospital at Menlo Park, came to his death by accidental drowning. Randal was swimming in Searsville Lake on Sunday, and nothing was known of the tragedy until late in the evening when it was noticed that a man's clothes were left in the bath house.

The attendant in charge at the time immediately informed Ernest Brandsten, proprietor of the resort, and assistant physical director of Stanford University. Brandsten with the assistance of the attendants of the place made a search of the lake and surrounding country and later notified the sheriff's office. As the man was identified by articles in his pockets as having come from the base hospital, that institution was also notified.

The next morning, as no word had been received from the man at either the sheriff's office of the hospital, Brandsten again made a search of the lake and saw the body of a man about sixteen feet beneath the surface. He immediately summoned help and raised the body.

Following the inquest here the body was shipped to Covington, Kentucky, where Randal's only relative, a sister, lives.

SAN JOAQUIN COTTON CROP TO BE SHIPPED THIS WAY

The report of the big cotton crop in the San Joaquin valley this year is pleasing news to the people of the peninsula. There are over 90,000 bales to be harvested and the growers expect to ship it to San Francisco over the Dumbarton bridge and through San Mateo county. This item alone means a large revenue to the bridge promoters and stockholders. Other crops will also be shipped over the bridge which will be completed in October. The peninsula and San Francisco are to receive big benefits from the completion of the bridge. The development along all lines by this structure cannot be appreciated at this time. There is one more enterprise to be launched that will complete the entire success of the peninsula and that is the construction of the Bay Shore highway. With that finished through the county there would be no end to the boom that will strike the peninsula.

Although she failed to make the points which she expected on the cinder path, Miss Alda Silva, champion girl athelete of Sequoia, brought glory on herself last Saturday when she broke the world's record in the javelin throw.

In other events Miss Silva had tied the world record in the 60-yard hurdles and had made a coast championship in the 50-yard dash. In the meet, Miss Silva was defeated in both of these entries by Miss Helen Filkey, probably the greatest girl athelete in America, who took three first places and made three world records.

In throwing the Javelin, however, though a sport with which she was almost entirely unfamiliar, Miss Silva broke the world's record by seven feet. In the shot put she took third place.

MENLO EATING HOUSE ROBBED BY HOLD-UP GANG

The Twin Oaks restaurant on Willow road near Menlo Park was the the scene of a hold up Saturday night in which four masked men succeeded in making away with $84. The robbery occured at about 10 o'clock at night when C. L. Culrose, the proprietor of the place was alone. The four men entered and after covering Culrose with a pistol emptied the till, and then left in a large touring car.

Sheriff McGovern was immediately notified and made an examination of the premises and of the surrounding country, but without finding any trace of the outlaws. It is thought that this gang may be the same which was frustrated recently in an attmept to hold up the Menlo Barbeque, and which escaped at that time.

LITTLE LOUISE SHOLESS DROWNS IN THE SEQUOIA SWIMMING POOL

San Carlos Man Called by Death

Last Saturday morning, July 11, James E. Duffy of San Carlos died from a sudden attack of heart trouble. He was seventy-nine years of age, but apparently was in his usual health when the end came.

He was a brother of the late Mrs. Alice Hussey, and of the late Mrs. W. W. Hull, with whom he had made his home for the last thirty years.

He was born in Quincy, Massachusetts, and came to San Carlos in 1861. He was a stone cutter by trade and worked many years for the Southern Pacific Company and later with the Raymond Granite Company.

He never married, was of a retiring disposition and the most exemplary habits. He was very well read on all subjects; few knew California history better than he, for he had a remarkable memory which he retained with his other faculties to the end.

The funeral took place Monday from the Hull family home at San Carlos, thence to Mt. Carmel church. Interment was at Menlo Park cemetery, besides the remains of his sister, Mrs. Hussey.

His nephew, Asa Hull, and two nieces, Mrs. Mary H. Shields and Mrs. Rupert Johnson of San Carlos, survive him.

Child Wades To A Deep Part of Tank Unnoticed

While swimming in the public pool of the Sequoia Union High School, Louisa Sholess, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sholess of this city, came to a tragic death, when getting into water beyond her depth, she was drowned before any one knew her predicament. The accident occured Thursday afternoon shortly before five o'clock, a time when the pool was full of children.

The litle girl had come to the pool with two other little girls and two women, said to be mothers of the two other girls. After the three children had been in the pool awhile, the two girls went to the dressing room with their mothers, leaving Louisa in the pool. As the little girls could not swim, they had been playing in the shallow end of the pool, where the water is only about two feet deep. But after her companions had left the little girl was seen holding onto the hand rail which surrounds the tank and going into the deeper water.

Nothing was known of the tragedy until one of the boys who was in swimming dived to the bottom and struck the body of the unfortunate little girl. He immediately told Frank Towne, Jr., a larger boy, who dove to the bottom and brought the little body to the surface.

Help was immediately summoned and a pulmotor used in an attempt to bring back the life which had already left.

The pool was well guarded, and the accident was one that could not be averted. It is thought that if the little girl had cried at all that her cries could not be heard for the shouts of other children, who were playing in the pool. She did not raise to the surface after she went down, and even the children who were playing near her had no idea of what had happened.

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at which time it was confirmed that the little girl had drowned. The funeral will take place today at one o'clock from the parlors of Layng and Tinney.

On the morning following the death of the little girl, Mrs. Sholess received a telegram telling of the death in New York of her brother. The death of the brother was on the same day as that of the little girl.

GRASS FIRE BURNS OVER LARGE TRACT OF LAND

A grass fire, which originated, it is supposed from some motorist throwing a burning match or cigarette from a car into the grass by the roadside, burned over more than a hundred acres of grass and underbrush in the hills back of here on Monady. The fire started on the northern side of the Whipple road and ranged far back into the hills, sweeping rapidly through the small patches of underbrush with which this section is covered.

The local fire department was called out, and under the direction of Chief Ryan, battled for three hours in the blazing sun. Wet sacks, back fires and a gang plow were put to work and the fire was confined to a comparitively limiaed area. No property damage was done, the greatest loss being te burning of a quantity of young oak trees which were badly scorched.

FIGHT FOR EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

THE fight which centers around the creation of a federal department of education, and which has occupied much thought throughout the nation for the past six years, is again to be resumed by those who see the need of greater educational advantages througout the United States. The resolve to continue the fight for this department was arrived at by the National Education Association by a unanimous vote of that organization.

The new bill to be introduced into the Senate by Charles Curtis, Republican Senator from Kansas; and in the House of Representatives by Daniel A. Reed, Republican, from New York, is as follows:

A department of education with a secretary in the President's cabinet is created. Co-ordination of the educational activities of the federal government is outlined. The development of the department as a great educational research agency is proposed and provisions are included to supply adequate funds for its support.

Dr. Charles W. Strayer of Columbia University, champion of the measure for six years, brought the matter to the convention. The noted educator based his arguments solely on the merits of the educational legislation and an exposition of the bill.

"We recognize two type of federal departments:" Dr. Strayer said, "There are those charged with the responsibility of administering of a federal function, such as the Treasury, War and Post Office Departments. Other executive divisions have been developed without any such administrative responsibility in order that they may promote the welfare of all the people. Examples of such departments are Agriculture, Commerce, and Labor.

"Efficiency and economy demand that those agencies in the federal government dealing with education and now distributed among the several executive departments be brought together under a single executive. Education so vitally affects every aspect of government that it is essential that this executive sit at the council table of the nation."

LOWER TAXES

SPEAKING of high taxes, Secretary Mellon of the Treasury stated: "Experience shows conclusively that if taxes are too high the source of revenue diminishes. No man will continue to sow where he cannot reap. This condition cannot be escaped, more scientific taxation on the higher incomes or more taxes upon the lower incomes. The man with the small income is more interested than are the wealthy themselves in seeing that the tax upon high incomes and large estates is economically sound. With tax-exempt securities being issued at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a year and with other means of escaping, the wealthy need no guardian."

The fight for lower taxes is being carried on now by Secretary Mellon and by President Coolidge, and will we hope result in the great reductions which they are endeavoring to make. By curtailing and abolishing unnecessary governmental functions, and by rearranging the present system of taxation an enormous saving will be accomplished.

It has been a common statement that in public affairs two employes are usually hired, where one would be required to do the work in private affairs. President Coolidge has shown a determination to change this method of doing public business if he possibly can. He has decided to dispense with the services of the White House Special Secretary and turn this work over to some man in the state department service. This means that a man in the state department will have to assume the additional responsibility of directing the conduct of all formal social functions at the White House instead of being merely an advisor in regards to them as in the past. It has been suggested that the man on whom this additional duty will fall is likely to resign. It is a safe bet, however, that he will not resign. If the people want economy in public affairs they must back public officials who have the courage to cut out red tape and public pomp.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

IN the opinion of R. B. Sims, warden of the Arizona state prison for the past ten years, those who advocate hanging are no better than those who burned witches in the past. "If it is only to protect society," says Warden Sims, "society does not need to commit murder to protect itself, but can confine the criminal. It is better to err on the side of mercy than to raise to fame by the blood of a single human being whose life belongs to God alone."

Warden Sims after many years work among the criminals of his state sees the futility of capital punishment as a detering force of crime. "If capital punishment had a detering influence on criminals, then it should be by all means public, where children could see it. I have grave doubts of the sincerity of those who advocate capital punishment. The best test is to determine in one's own mind if he would advocate death, if his son were the defendant."

The idea is becoming more and more prevalent that capital punishment is wrong, and before long, we believe the people of the country will look back upon our generation much as Warden Sims says, as we do upon those who burned witches in the past.

FIRE DISTRICT FORAMTION ASKED OF COUNTY BOARD

James V. Neuman of Woodside came before the board of supervisors last Monday with a petition signed by himself and a number of other residents of that district, petitioning the board of supervisors to form a fire district at Woodside and to appoint three fire commissioners.

The matter was discussed by the board and the method of proceedure was outlined by District Attorney Franklin Swart. The board accepted the petition and the following men were named, Edmund Diamond, Selah Chamberlain and J. V. Neuman. The formation of the district will be taken up later.

The matter of the appointment of a member of the board of supervisors on the advisory council of the Community hospital was brought before the board by Supervisor Brown, when she moved that Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey of the First township be appointed. Hickey was accordingly appointed, all voting for his appointment, except the supervisor himself, who did not vote.

Application was made to the board by Elgin Kreiss of this city for appointment on the state traffic squad, operating in this county. Captain James Logan of the county squad was present and urged the appointment of Kreiss, as he said, the squad was in need of additional men in order to carry on the work in this county. No action was taken by the board, other than receiving and filing the application.

A request for permission to lay a six-inch pipe along the highway near the Belle Monti tract was received from the Belle Monti Company, and the same was granted upon motion made by Supervisor Brown.

An application for permission to leave the state for three weeks was received from Coroner W. A. Brooke and it was granted by the board.

Permission to close Muller avenue in the Second township was asked by Attorney J. E. McCurdy, who appeared personally before the board in this matter. A date for hearing was set for August 10 on motion of Supervisor Thompson.

Supervisor Hickey reported upon a communication which had been received from Percy E. Towne of San Francisco relative to the necessity of repairing a bridge on a road leading into Visitacion valley. Hickey reported that the road had never been accepted as a county road. As the bridge was in need of being completely rebuilt, Hickey stated that it would be unwise for the county to spend any money on it, and the clerk was instructed to write Towne that the matter was not in the hands of the county.

Frank K. Towne appeared personally before the board in regard to a road at Tunitas which leads through land in which he is interested. The road was formerly the old county road, but by an agreement made in 1924, the road was to have been abandoned in return for the road which was constructed farther up the canyon. This has never been done, however, and as a result, Towne stated, the owners of the ranch have suffered from motorists going down to the beach at this point and destroying buildings and other property belonging to the company. The matter was referred to County Engineer George A. Kneese.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE ALLEGING FAILURE TO PROVIDE FUNDS

Mrs. Alma A. Eickenberger of Belmont on Monday filed in the Superior Court a suit for divorce from Frederick T. Eickenberger, alleging that her husband has failed to provide the necessities of life for herself and three minor children, although able to do so.

The Eickenbergers married in San Mateo on May 12, 1906, and separated on November 1, 1923. There is no community property, according to the complaint. Mrs. Eickenberger asks that she be awarded custody of the children and $50 per month for their maintenance. She is represented by Attorney R. H. McGowan of San Francisco.

A movement is on foot to build a bicycle railway from Millbrae to Pescadero. The men wo are back of the enterprise are ex-Attorney General W. H. H. Hart and Sumner W. Bugbee. This bicycle railway is a decided novelty, though not entirely untried. The principal feature is a single rail and single set of wheels under the cars, exactly like a bicycle. It is claimed that this reduces the cost of construction of a line more than half and that the road can be built over grades and through country where even a nrrow gauge is impossible.

The Railroad Commission on Tuesday issued an order directing Manuel Bello and Caeser Pellegrini to discontinue operation of their auto truck services between points on the coast side of the San Francisco peninsula, until such time as they had procured authority to operate from the Commission. They were operating without a certificate, according to testimony adduced at a hearing before the Commission, held on complaint of the Coastside Transportation Company, which holds a certificate authorizing operation between points served by Bello and Pellegrini. Cleaning Without Odor by the

F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded bp our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. t is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening gasoline smell in your clothes.

What to do when a Light goes out

If the trouble is with a single Lamp, it may be due either to a broken filament in the Lamp or to a defective Socket.

Often a Lamp with a broken filament can be temporarily restored to service by tapping it lightly. It is well to try another Lamp in the same Socket. Also try the "dead" Lamp in a different Socket. Those tests will determine whether the fault is with the Lamp or the Socket.

If the trouble is in the Socket it is better to send for an electrician than to try to make the repair yourself.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Over Half A Million Distributed To Employees

Distribution of more than half a million dollars in stock to the employes of the Bank of Italy, and an increase in the dividend rate to 15% effective next October, for the stockholders, has been announced as the result of the first six months' experience under the provisions of the employes stock ownership plan, adopted by the bank last fall.

In exact figures $531,459.80 of bank stock will be divided among the employes, on the basis of one share of stock, having a present market value greater than $315, for each average contribution by the employes of $74.25. This means that the bank has given out of its profits more than $240, toward the purchase of each share of stock distributed.

The plan as outlined by the bank provides that at each semi-annual period 40% of the net profits, shall be set aside and added to a fund contributed by the employes. The total amount is then used to purchase stock. Through this arrangement, ultimate control of the bank will be vested in those who are actually engaged in its management and operation.

Executives of the bank point to the success of this plan, as evidence of the fact that where financial inducements of the right proportion are offered, material advantages can be secured in efficiency, with resultant larger profits. They point to the increase in the dividend rate, as justification of the plan from the standpoint of those who were stockholders prior to its inauguration and the addition to the bank's surplus and undivided profits as a benefit to the depositors.

This is the first time in the annals of American banking that a plan of this character has been undertaken, and its operation has been watched with interest in financial circles.

Redwood Man Writes History of Early Days

In the last issue of the Contra Costa Gazette, published in Martinez in Contra Costa county, appeared an extremely interesting story of the early days in California. This is especially interesting to the people of Redwood City for the fact that the writer is a former resident of this city and is very well known here. The writing is that of J. D. Smith, who for many years conducted one of the best known livery stables in this part of the county, and was also connected with the orchard industry in this and neighboring counties.

Mr. Smith left here several years ago to retire to the Masonic home, as he was a member of the local Masonic lodge. We take the liberty of quoting largely from the story as it appeard in the Gazette.

Arrives in California in 1848

"With my parents, John and Elizabeth Smith, I was a passenger sailing from Scotland to Vancouver Island in 1848. My father being a coal mining engineer, was employed by the Hudson Bay Fur Trading Company to come there and try and locate a mine, the Indians having frequently brought to the fort samples of coal. On arriving at the island the indians were at war, thus making it dangerous to go far from the fort. After waiting several months and safety conditions not improving, a vessel arrived, giving my parents an opportunity to come to Benicia, in California, where he had heard many Scotch mechanics were employed. He made arrangements to go there and arrived late in the year 1848. My father secured employment with the Pacific Steamship Company when Capt. Charles Alison was superintendent and a number of Scotch mechanics were employed.

Mother Took Boarders.

My mother was induced to take a number of single men in the company's employ as boarders and during the year 1849 she had from six to eight boarders, all Scotchmen. I recall Andrew Kirkwood was superintendent of the blacksmith department.

Andrew Kirkwood was an expert horseman and Sundays he usually spent riding over the country, frequently crossing the bay to Martinez and riding out in the valleys to either side of Mt. Diablo, as the mountain was called. He brought back glowing accounts of the country he visited. About this time the gold mine excitement was very high and my father had many inducements to go in search for gold, but my mother had had farm experience and was a skilled butter and cheese maker and was so enthused with the accounts Andrew Kirkwood gave of the beautiful valleys across the bay that she induced my father to go with Mr. Kirkwood and see for himself. When he returned the decision was made to discontinue the work in Benicia and prepare to go to the valley west of Mt. Diablo and locate a home.

Moves to San Ramon Valley

Accordingly, early in 1850, with a team, wagon, and the necessary articles to begin life in a primative way, we crossed the bay in the ferry boat, that, as I recollect landed us, not on a wharf on the Martinez side, but the apron of the boat for landing rested on the bank. We drove out directly south, passing a Spanish residence about one mile from the town, crossing a creek and over a divide that gave a view of the fine country further south.

When my father made the trip with Mr. Kirkwood he had selected a possible location about 16 miles from Martinez, where there was a grove of trees. The location proved to be just a quarter of a mile south from the present town of Danville. We arrived before night fall and camped where we were to begin to make a home.

Lives in Canvas House

Our first house was of canvas, for my father had prepared a light frame, which he covered with a heavy sail he had provided. At that time there was only one house in the valley from the Amador settlement, where the town of Dublin is located. Amador had a grant of land about thirty thousand acres and Leo Norris had bought a tract on the north side of the grant, about three thousand acres, and he had already built a house, the first built and owned by a white man in the valley.

During this year my father, with the assistance of a carpenter named Mark Elliott, built, on his location and Major Russell, who came to the valley, bought 312 acres of land near the present town of Dublin, and with Mark Elliott's skilled assistance, built his home, now occupied by Numa. While Major Russell was preparing his home for his family, the family lived in Martinez. Besides his wife, were the following named children: Helen, Maria, Valasco, Samuel, Hiram and Nettie, the latter born near Sacramento in 1850.

Settlement in Moraga

At this date there was quite a settlement in Moraga Valley, as there was a fine body of Redwood trees in a canyon extending to and over the range of hills between Moraga valley and San Francisco bay, and the timber was being taken to San Francisco. A small saw mill was in operation and on account of its proximity, there was a settlment at Lafayette—where the first flour mill in Contra Costa county was built, that later with extensive additions was moved to Pacheco. Major Russel crossed the plains as far as Salt Lake with his family, but left them there, as Col. Fremont requested his services as Aid de Camp to go to California to resist Spanish aggression and on settlement, when the Spanish General surrendered, Major Russell was later discharged from service and returned to Salt Lake and brought his family to California as stated.

I can not recall any other white settler in San Ramon Valley during the year 1850. There was quite a settlement in a valley east of Alamo, just across the San Ramon creek. A number of Spaniards had located there near some springs and I never saw a Spanish settlement in those days where there was not a spring of water—they dug no wells. Amador, Bernal, Livermore, Pacheco Galindo, the Soto brothers and Welch, near Walnut Creek, and the settlement near Alamo, all located near springs, not creeks with running water.

KIWANIANS MEET AT HAPPYLAND

Happyland, the San Francisco Bulletin's ill camp for the children of San Francisco who need the sunshine and fresh air of the country, was the scene of the regular meeting of the Redwood City Kiwanis club this week. The local club decided to meet in the dining room of the children's camp this week, rather than in their accustomed place, in order that they might become better acquainted with the fine work done in this camp, and also that they might entertain the children with a short program.

The business of the meeting was rushed through by President James Hedge in order that the maximum amount of time might be given to the entertainment. This consisted of a number of funny songs lead by Prof. Otis M. Carrington and joined in by Kiwanians and children alike, and several violin solos by Miss Francella Joy. The meeting was enjoyed by the members of the club and by the children. The Kiwanians are continuing to bring the children of Happyland to the Sequoia Theatre.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

On Sunday evening at 7 o'clock Miss Bessie Helen Smith and Claude Boyd were married at St. James church, San Francisco by Rev. Jno. Byrne, assisted by Father T. Byrns. The pretty bride is a neice of Rev. J. Byrnes, is a graduate nurse of Mary's Help Hospital. The groom is well known here. He is a grandson of Mrs. Moriarty, a nephew of Mr. Ed and Miss Annie Moriarty and Mrs. Shine of Woodside. About 75 were seated at the wedding supper, and in a very pretty speech, Father Byrne welcomed Mr. Boyd into his family. They received many handsome presents. The honeymoon is being spent in Santa Cruz, and upon their return a pretty home awaits the bride at 917 Diamond street, San Francisco. Among the wedding guests from here were Mrs. Frank Derry and family, Mrs. Moriarty, Annie Moriarty, Mr. and Mrs. Shine, Miss Alberta Shine.

On Saturday evening, July 25th the Native Daughters will give a dance in Duff and Doyle hall. Music will be furnished by Paul Nelson's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Casey are home again after a short visit at Lake Tahoe, where they went last week. They are spending the summer in Menlo Park.

Miss Julia Bremis, a pretty maiden from San Francisco, is here on a visit to her cousin, Miss Nancy Nunn.

Mrs. A. Hill of 47 Roble avenue left Thursday on the Sunset Limited for Los Angeles, from there she will go to New York to buy for the Emporium of San Francisco, returning the latter part of this month.

Dr. Redmond Cochrane, who recently graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, San Francisco, has opened an office at 530 University avenue, Plo Alto. Dr. Cochrane begins his life's career under most favorable auspices. He has ability, is endowed with a pleasing personality and starts in one of the most progressive and up-to-date cities in the west. His many friends in Menlo Park, his boyhood home, bespeak success for him in his chosen profession.

Frank Maloney is spending a short vacation at Gilroy Springs.

Mrs. E. W. Charles, who passed away at San Diego last week, and who was buried at Alta Mesa on Monday, was a Menlo Park pioneer, having come here from the east with her husband, the late Dr. E. W. Charles in 1890. The doctor was the first physician to practice here. The family moved to Palo Alto a few years later when the town had just started and began to develop. Their son, the late Judge Charles of Palo Alto, was killed in an automobile accident some years ago at San Bruno.

Several local capitalists, one of whom has had experience in the newspaper business, contemplate starting a daily paper in Palo Alto. The syndicate plans to put oodles of money into the enterprise. Palo Alto has enough population to support two papers.

The members of the Menlo Park Horticultural Society will hold a picnic at the Diamond place at Portola on Sunday, July 26. About seventyfive members and their families will attend the annual outing. The society is made of gardeners in and about Menlo Park, and has been in existence for many years. Years ago the society gave flower shows every fall and these affairs were big events in the days of long ago.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a food sale in the Maloney block today, beginning in the morning. The ladies have prepared some excellent cakes and delicious home-made pies which they will offer and at reasonable prices. Come and secure a pie, like your mother used to make.

Miss Bessie Mason, teacher of Menlo Park and a teacher in the Peninsular avenue school, has gone to Santa Cruz, where she will spend several weeks' vacation.

The Las Lomitas school district will soon erect an addition to the building to make room for the new pupils that will attend next semester. The board will also buy adjoining land for expansion. The board has vision and sees that in the near future all the land close by will be sold, and it will be difficult to acquire it. The bond election held last week to raise $10,000 for these improvements was carried almost unanimously.

Last Tuesday evening the North Palo Alto Sanitary District Board held its regular meeting in the offices of the Home Dairy. All the members were present. They are C. H. Steere, president, Charles Hill, secretary, and M. L. Christensen, Paul Boyer and M. I. Piers. The other officers of the district are F. A. Reynolds, assessor, and Charles Moser, engineer. The board is composed of businessmen of North Palo Alto, who meet on the second Tuesday of each month to transact such business as may come before it concerning the district. The members are progressive nd have faith in their community and are wide awake to its advantages. They know the installation of a sewer system in the district will bring home seekers to their locality and they are now working towards that end in planning a $0,000 bond issue to provide a sewer system that will be second to none in the state. The election will take place very soon. The engineers is preparing the plans and specifications. The assessment roll of the property of the district was accepted by the board at its last meeting. It shows the assessable property to be a little over $200,000. As time rolls on the board expects to annex adjoining property and ths enlarge the system. Homes are being erected daily in the community so that in time it will be one of the big districts of the county. The board at Tuesday evening's meeting discussed at length the proposed bond issue, looking at every angle in a business way, endeavoring to economize in the construction of the sewer system. Special meetings are to be held from time to time until the bond election is disposed of, and the sewer constructed. The Palo Alto Sanitary Board will set a pace to other similar boards in the county for punctuality and the business-like way it transacts business.

On Friday, July 10, a baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. George R Angus of Atherton. The new arrival is the first born and naturally the fond parents are more than elated as are the grandma and grandpa Angus. The proud father is connected with the California Packing Co.

Henry Harkins has moved down from the city and is living at the old home with his mother. Mr. Harkins is a civil engineer of ability.

Doctor Yale, who owns a beautiful home in the Valparaiso tract, is preparing to go east. On his return he may sail for South America, where he has large interests.

Thomas Cochrane and B. Liedberg have returned from a short vacation spent at the Gilroy Hot Springs. When they left the resort it was crowded, but very few were there during the early part of the season. The springs are the most healthful of any in the state.

Mr. Neilson, the local realty broker, has a big deal on which if consummated will be a mammoth affair for Menlo Park. One of the largest industrial sites of the country is likely to be located here.

Alfred Kurst arrived from Oregon during the week and will spend the remainder of his vacation here. He is a senior at the University of California.

Mrs. James T. Rucker, who is occupying the Menlo Park home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Spieker, during their absence at Lake Tahoe, gave a luncheon on Thursday. The guests were Mrs. Horace Howard, Mrs. Edward Younger, Mrs. John Irby, Mrs. Joseph Rucker, Mrs. William Matson, Mrs. William Hermaan and Miss Fanny Danforth.

Woodside Notes

We have always spoken well of Woodside's climate and lauded the beauties of her location and scenery, but we have never had the temerity to assert that one would willingly leave Paradise for Woodside. Yet that is exactly what Frank Nash and his family have done. They have been living in Paradise, (California) for a year and have come to Woodside to spend the vacation months with Mrs. Nash's sister, Mrs. Jos. L. Ross, Jr. And they say they find it a welcome change.

Dr. Bradford Leavitt and C. K. Feidler of Pasadena left here on Thursday for a motor trip to the Yellostwone Park by way of Vancouver. They are traveling in a late model Willys-Knight coupe and carrying light equipment. They expect to be able to stop at hotels on their trip and are not looking for trouble, but in case of emergency, Dr. Leavitt has agreed to qualify as mechanic and Mr. Feidler has offered to function as cook for the party. They will be gone three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Litchfield have resumed their vacation trip so rudely interrupted at Snta Barbara by the earthquake, but this time they headed north instead of south and will make Portland their point of destination.

Mr. and Mrs. N A. Andreen have just returned from a trip into the Yosemite Valley.

Alda Silva returned on Sunday last from Pasadena, where she contested in the National Field Meet for girls. Crippled by the injury to her ankle received a month ago she was unable to equal her own time on the track, but she brought home the world's record in the javelin throw, having beaten the previous record by the margin of seven feet.

Thomas Stewart, superintendent for D. C. Jackling, reports an unusual heavy crop of hay on the Jackling place this year. He has just put 120 tons in the barns.

Mrs. A. H. Audiffred and son have just returned from Berkeley, where they have been visiting with her brother, A. Jacques, in the Thousand Oaks district of Berkeley.

James Wilkie, a former employee of Neuman Bros. and well known in Woodside, has become superintendent for the Whittel property here.

The local school building is receiving an overhauling preparatory to the opening of the fall term of school.

MOUNTAIN VIEW POOL POPULAR

Special to the Times-Gazette

Mountain View, July 14—The big salt water plunge at South Shore Port near here, operated by the Kingsport Amusement Company, reopened on Saturday with a very large attendance. Between twelve hundred and fifteen hundred people visited the new amusement place on Sunday and many hundreds enjoyed the cool refreshing salt water for bathing. This is one of the largest salt water plunges on the coast, and is the only one in Santa Clara county. It is built on the edge of the bay, and has an intake from the channel from water that does not flow over the mud flats, so that it is clear. A great pump brings it in at the rate of a thousand gallons a minute, and the water is constantly changing. The plunge is entirely surrounded by a frame building containing rows of spacious dressing rooms, in connection with which are shower baths and other conveniences. Concessions there are prepared to furnish visitors with foods and confectionery. The plunge is open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., and provisions are being made for special evening parties of business people and their families, clubs, churches, or lodges, so that by special arrangement in advance time can be reserved at special rates.

Last night a hundred or more people in a party from Mountain View enjoyed the plunge. The water is just the right temperature to be invigorating, and everything is provided for the comfort and enjoyment of the bathers.

ROY W. CLOUD TELLS OF HIS EASTERN TRIP

Mr. Isaac has asked me to write an account of my jorney to the National Education Association at Indianopolis, June 30 to July 4, hence the following:

With sixty-two other California teachers and superintendents I started from San Francisco, June 23rd. The way lay through the beautiful Feather River canyon then on through the mountains of California, the desters of Nevada and Utah, and on to the wonderful mountain gorges of Colorado. After the Continental Divide of 10,500 feet elevation at Tennessee Pass came the descent to the prairie lands of the middle west and on every side wonderful fields of grain or swaying oceans of corn met the eye.

At Kansas City and Chicago short stops were enjoyed and Indianapolis was reached Sunday afternoon.

In the delegtion of 131 from California were George H. Bell of Sequoia High School and Miss Mardelle Robinson, formerly of Redwood City, but now in the Richmond High School. California's delegation was the largest at the big assembly and the members put forth every effort to bring next year's convention to Los Angeles. They were unsuccessful, however, s Philadelphia, with its sesque-centenial celebration put forth the greater attraction and won he vote of the directors.

The meetings of the association were good and addresses of great value were made in the different sessions.

The visits to the homes of James Whitcomb Riley and other prominent Hoosiers were made on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon I was personally fortunate in having Mr. Henry E. Grimmenstein, a former resident of Redwood City, take a real interest in my welfare. Mr. Grimmenstein is a battery manufacturer of Indianapolis. He owns his own plant, which is in one of the best sections of the city. He employs 13 men in the casting and assembling departments and is rated as one of the city's most influential citizens. He has a beautiful home and a charming wife and daughter, who extended real Indiana hospitality. The family car was placed at my disposal and so the sights and scenes of Indiana's capital were visited easily and comfortably.

On our return trip we spent three days in Chicago. From there we journied to Springfield, Ill., and spent the dy at the home of Abraham Lincoln. We saw all of the places that were so intimately connected with the great emancipator and before leaving stood by the side of his tomb in the great monument which has been erected to commemorate this simple man and his great achievments.

Our return took us through St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and Salt Lake, but because of the intense heat we merely viewed these centers from sight seeing wagons. We were glad to feel the cooling breezes of the San Francisco bay on Sunday evening and to know that we were once again back in the best section of a wonderful country. We had visited great cities and had seen the homes of famous men, but we knew that home is best and as we read now of the heat of the east and south and middle west we are glad that Redwood City is our abiding place.

TRAVEL FAR TO SECURE MARRAGE LICENSE HERE

Yesterday afternoon Frank A Smith and Herborg Brandt, both of San Francisco were granted a license to wed. Mr. Smith is a brother of Ed Smith, at one time a deputy county clerk here, and whom he often visited. He made a solemn promise with his brother that if ever he married he would secure the license in Redwood City. He carried out the agreement made years ago. Edward Smith, who married some time ago, came from afar off to get his license here. The Smiths believe that a marriage license issued in Redwood City carrys with it good luck. Many others think the same way from the number of licenses issued daily to parties from different portions of the state.

MOVIES

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" COVERS TIME AND TERRITORY

The Red Sea and San Francisco are about five thousand miles apart. The Israelites led by Moses on their exodus from Egypt are separated by about forty centuries from Sunday after-noon jazz dancing today. Yet, Cecil B. DeMille has managed to put them together convincingly in his picturization of "The Ten Commandments." This great Paramount picture is coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, July 20 and 21, where it will be shown for the first time at popular prices.

The modern story opens on a devout mother driving one of her two sons from home because he will not "apologize to God," for what she believes sacrilege. The son goes out into the world, not bitterly, but boyishly exultant, to smash every commandment. Then De Mille develops his theme that "if you try to break the Ten Commandments they'll break you."

A gorgeous Biblical episode, done in natural colors, is enacted by such popular players as Estelle Taylor, Theodore Roberts, James Neill, Charles de Roche, and Lawson Butt. The two million persons who have paid from one to two dollars to see this greatest of Paramount Pictures testify that the highest point the cinema art has yet reached, has been achieved in this most ambitious directorial effort of Cecil B. DeMille.

PUTTING THE PHONE CABLES UNDERGROUND

$321,000 Spent on Improving Peninsula Unit

Among the several activities on the San Francisco peninsula during the present year, which are strongly indicative of the confidence of capital in the development of this district is Pacific Telephone and Telegraph's underground telephone unit between South San Francisco and San Jose, work on which is nearing completion.

Entailing an expenditure of $321,000, the project has been under way since March 28 of this year, according to J. D. Worthington, district manager. Work has just been completed on the sector beween Five Points, Redwood City, and the Santa Clara-San Mateo county bridgehead over San Francisquito creek. Work is now progressing on the final unit between the bridge and San Jose.

Forty years ago one telephone line which parallieled the state highway served the peninsula district, but today there are 566 circuits, including the transcontinental haul, which pass through Palo Alto.

The present underground highway prject requires nearly 23,000 feet of aerial cable and 45,000 feet of underground. A gang of 50 men has been able to carry forward the work at a rate of about 900 feet a day.

Ancient Custom, Anyway

The origin of the superstition concerning knocking on wood is doubtful. Some authorities attribute it to the ancient religious rite of touching a crucifix when taking an oath; others to the touching of beads of the rosary when praying. Among the ignorant peasants of Europe the custom probably began with the habit of knocking loudly to keep away evil spirits.

Wolverine a Scavenger

The wolverine, the largest of the weasel tribe, while ready to fight anything of its own size, or in fact many times larger, has short legs and a heavy body which makes it a slow pursuer of live game. Consequently, the wolverine is, to a large extent, a scavenger. They will lazily travel long distances to feast on dead, sick or crippled animals. They have the reputation of even feeding on the porcupine, which no other animal will eat.

A MEAL IN A GLASS

To prepare a luncheon during these days when the mercury is beginning to get ambitious is somewhat of a task. For then, if ever, appetities are fickle, and hot, solid foods are not particularly enticing. Here, then, is a solution. Serve a meal in a glass—a meal which contains practically the same amount of nutritive value as a regular luncheon, and yet is quickly made, cooling and refreshing.

Egg lemonade is one such meal. Fill a tall glass half-full of crushed ice. Add one tablespoonful of crushed berries. Beat in one egg and the juice of one lemon. Add water to fill the glass and sweeten to taste with granulated or powdered sugar.

Milk shake is another substitute for a hot luncheon. The milk should be placed on ice and thoroughly chilled. Then fill a tall glass about two-thirds full. Add one tablespoonful of strained fruit preserves or melted jelly. Fill the glass with chipped ice, pour the mixture into a fruit jar, screw on the cover, and shake vigorously until the milk becomes frothy. Pour into a glass and serve with a little nutmeg or cinnamon sprinkled on top.

FOR SALE—On account of serious accident to my leg, I am compelled to sell my two horses and wagon. Very reasonable. Wm Douglas, 520 Pelps St. 3tp.
